Sustainability is a guiding principle at The Farmstead, a collection of eight self-catering lodges, nestled in the secluded wildlife haven of the Deben valley. The lodges were built using reclaimed timber and materials, local craftspeople were commissioned to create furniture and many objects were sourced from antique markets and auction houses. Enjoy some al fresco bathing in the copper bath on the veranda, while watching out for wildlife amongst the wildflower meadow - deer, rabbits, hares, pheasants, barn owls, herons, swans, kingfishers and even otters have all been spotted. Once you've enjoyed your welcome pack filled with local produce including some freshly baked sourdough bread, head out to picturesque Easton village, or on to historic sites such as Framlingham Castle and Sutton Hoo.
